Santiago E-Prix

February 3 2018

GKN takes to the streets at the Santiago E-Prix:

The Santiago E-Prix is a new addition to the Formula E championship for the Season 4 calendar.

The drivers will be battling for victory against the backdrop of the hills of central Santiago as the new circuit twists and turns through Parque Forestal and crosses the Mapocho River.

The Santiago race kicks off the Latin American leg of the season, a part of the world well known for the enthusiasm and energy of its motorsport fans.

The Santiago race will be sure to capture their imagination once again!
